

RECYCLE REFASHION REDEPLOY

Patriotic Sustainable Fashion Brand. Nashville, TN, USA

Own a piece of American history!

Wearable Gratitude™ is a patriotic sustainable fashion brand started by Founder & Designer Amy Cotta. Amy is the daughter of a deceased Army Veteran and the proud mother of an active-duty United States Marine.

We Recycle, Refashion, and Redeploy™ authentic duty-worn military uniforms and discarded gear and transform them into fashion and accessories for women and men. We are breathing new life into these uniforms and surplus while sharing the legacy of the men and women who proudly served in them. Military family members lovingly handcraft our products, and most come with the story of the uniform's donor. We proudly support Memories of Honor, a national nonprofit whose mission is to make every day Memorial Day.
